DeepBlue, Australia's string rock experience are back with their brand new show, Who Are You at Brisbane Powerhouse from 10-14th October.

Imagine a show that shuffles Radiohead, Corelli, Gotye and DeepBlue originals remixed with lush strings, big beats and rock 'n' roll. Who Are You is all about the music and the moments that shape our lives. The performers' exquisite playing, precision moves and circus antics are guaranteed to delight audiences.

Co-producer Andy Arthurs describes a DeepBlue show as a social night that is full of fun. "In all DeepBlue shows, audiences experience fantastic emotional performances from 16 energetic musicians. We hope that everyone will have a great night out together".

At Brisbane Powerhouse DeepBlue will dig deeper into the desires of their audience, continuing a conversation, which has previously seen their fans text in their dreams and song requests. Audiences are invited to use their Wi-Fi enabled devices (smart phones, iPad etc) to access DeepBlue's mobile web app - an Interactive Show Program that is full of info about DeepBlue's music. This groundbreaking idea also enables audience members to confidentially share identity-forming moments of their lives during the show. Of course, others will just want to sit back and have fun watching the show.

Since 2006 DeepBlue has worked and performed with over 5000 young musicians across Australia in YoungBlue workshops and holiday programs. Visit www.youngblue.net.au for more info. For the first time in Brisbane, DeepBlue is also inviting singers to contact DeepBlue to get involved in the show.

Judging from the reception of DeepBlue's recent South and West Australian tour, these innovations in the show will add a new dimension to the performance, which connects the audience with the orchestra in new ways.

Over the past year this SE Queensland-based group has been busy developing their new show, and recording their third CD with help from their principal sponsor QUT. DeepBlue is excited to premiere their brand new show and launch their CD in the Powerhouse's cabaret setting, where they can bring performers and audience together to experience a great night out.
